

Rod's Comments to Ben Stein's Movie – Expelled, No Intelligence Allowed (An Atheist Response)

Ben Stein commented to atheist and evolutionist, Richard Dawkins, that he has been critical of the Old Testament God. Dawkins protested — noting that Stein isn't wrong, but that he's being too mild. Dawkins then reads this provocative paragraph from his book, The God Delusion:

"The God of the Old Testament is arguably the most unpleasant character in all fiction: jealous and proud of it; a petty, unjust, unforgiving control freak; a vindictive, bloodthirsty ethnic cleanser; a misogynistic, homophobic, racist, infanticidal, genocidal, filicidal, pestilential, megalomaniacal, sadomasochistic, capriciously malevolent bully."

How do you adequately and succinctly address such a profound and provocative statement with the intent to supply a positive and informative response? I opted to take the approach of "less is more" by just providing the definitions of the terms used and suitable passages from the Bible.

Another atheist in "Expelled" was asked how he would respond to God if God were to ask him why he chose not to believe – and the atheist said he would answer God with "because You hid Yourself."

Biblical response: True, God is a God who hides Himself (Deuteronomy 31:18; Isaiah 45:15) – especially from disinterested and antagonistic non-believers so they are not forced to believe (Mark 4:11-12). Even after Christ arose from the dead He only appeared to a select group of believers (about 500 in total according to 1Corinthians 15:6), and chose not to seek out Herod, Pontius Pilate, or the Scribes, Pharisees, and Priests. However, God sufficiently reveals Himself to those who seek him (Matthew 7:7). Also, God reveals hidden things (Daniel 2:28). So our faith is not a blind faith, but a substantiated faith based on historical evidence of fulfilled prophecies; and a faith that rests on evidence of things not seen (Hebrews 11:1).
