INTRODUCTION

- Lifeway opted to bypass Chapters 3, 7, and 11, but since I am a stickler for expository teaching I opted to weave these chapters in
- Consider this. A key objective for healing anyone is to enable them to go back to work so they can support their family and not be in need of anything ..... 1Thes 4:11-12
- Peter heals a lame beggar with just a few words, just as Jesus often did. This beggar wasn't looking to be healed, but was looking for cash. And this beggar didn't exhibit any faith, but Peter did.

QUESTIONS

- Peter came from a fairly wealthy family with a lucrative fishing business, and many Christians gave the Apostles money to take care of the poor, so why did Peter say to the beggar, "I don't have any money to give you"?
- Is it appropriate or even biblical to give to panhandlers/beggars?
- How much help should we extend to those in need?

CONCLUSION / APPLICATIONS

- Remember to "prove all things" – Validate each situation. The 1st question to ask is, "where is your family?"
- Notice that Peter did indeed help the beggar, not with a temporary fix, but with a permanent fix so he could get back to the workforce. Peter did but give any personal or church resources to the beggar
- If a panhandler is a prodigal individual, then helping them only prolongs their misery, enables and encourages their bad behavior, and keeps them from more quickly humbling themselves and heading back to their family in the right spirit of humility ..... Pr 26:11
- Another principle to be aware of. We also need to avoid helping the wicked and "loving" those who hate the Lord – and so incur possible wrath on ourselves ..... 2Chron 19:2; Isaiah 31:2

NEXT WEEK: Luke 24:1-12. Our Easter message for 2016 takes a look at the women who were the first to the tomb.
